

Solecurtus cumingianus Dunker, 1861
Corrugated Razor Clam, Corrugate Solecurtus

Class Bivalvia
Family Solecurtidae

Classification according to Turgeon et al. (1998)
References used: Description from Abbott (1974)

Diagnostic characters: 1 to 2 inches in length, quadrate to rectangular in shape; gaping at both ends. Outer surface sculptured with coarse, concentric, irregular lines and with sharp, small, oblique wavy threads. Color all white with a dull, yellowish-gray periostracum.

Habitat: Uncommon in offshore waters from 25 to 203 m.

Range: North Carolina to Texas; Brazil.

